

YALE RIFLE CAMPS ARE PREPARING FOR A STRENUOUS SEASON

SCHEDULE CONSISTS OF THIRTEEN MEETS

Will Compete in International and the Intercollegiate Title Matches.

FIFTY TRYING FOR TEAM

Opening Contest Will Take Place January 19, When Eli Opposes Drexel.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEW HAVEN, Oct. 21.—Thirteen meets for the Yale rifle team have been scheduled this year, and already over fifty men have come out for the team. Plans for the season were outlined last night by Capt. C. P. Williamson and D. F. Parker, the manager.

Practice is being held in the range in Artillery Hall. Aside from the regular schedule the university will enter its rifle team in the International Rifle Association's preliminary meets in December and the intercollegiate in February and March.

Here is the schedule, just announced: January 19, Drexel Institute; February 9, Western Maryland; February 12, Carnegie Institute of Technology; February 15, Oxford University; February 22, University of Tennessee; February 27, McGill University; March 6, Cambridge University; March 13, Princeton University; March 20, Harvard University; January 10, Gettysburg College; January 12, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; January 15, University of Washington and University of Chicago triangular meet; January 17, Pennsylvania State and Lehigh University triangular meet.

The gun club is also busy with the largest number of candidates for the team in the history of the sport at Yale. Yale won the championship last year in this sport, and this year will feel the loss of Capt. R. P. Gale and J. D. Bennett. This year's captain is Playford Boyle, '23, and the manager, C. P. Williams, Jr., '23.

A highly successful fall practice of the baseball team will be brought to a close next week. Fifty-five candidates for the nine have been out every day taking instructions from Bernie Tompkins and acting Capt. "Count" De Stobbe, and some excellent progress has been made.

The new baseball administration at Yale will be on a sound basis soon, with more personal attention given it by "Jack" Blosser, former captain and present athletic director, than other leaders have given.

Plans for Yale's great athletic club house near the bowl have been completed, and it is expected that ground will be broken for the building this fall. It will house all of the athletic teams when completed and should be one of the largest of its kind in the country.

Columbia

Tom Thorpe came around yesterday with his New York University boys for the avowed purpose of training the Yale team. Tom was a good sport; he knew that all the correspondents were paid on space, so he gave us three-quarters of a column of puff. New York University is well pleased with the Blue and White product and does not expect much from their team this fall, inasmuch as the material is very poor.

T. Ludlow Chryslie, president of the Yale Athletic Club and a trustee of the university, witnessed the football practice at Baker Field Tuesday, when the freshmen scrimmaged with the varsity.

Hutton Hight, who committed the fatal act of converting the Quarterback Bunt during the Wesleyan game and brought a fifteen yard penalty on the locals for so doing, which gave the visitors their only touchdown, was seen digesting a copy of the rules book Monday afternoon.

The three Columbia coaches who hail from Williams College will have a change of view old acquaintances when the Massachusetts collegians invade South Field Saturday. Buck O'Neill graduated from Williams. Joe Brooks attended the place for a year or so and Doc Barrett was the trainer of the Purple and White for twenty-five years before coming to Morris Heights two years ago. We judge that whenever Buck O'Neill was injured it was Doc Barrett, the Blue and White's present trainer, who fixed him up.

George Pease, the freshman quarterback, who starred at Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, will certainly be a factor in the success of the Purple and White varsity when next September rolls around. Doc Bill Cook, the coach of the sub-outlet, declared Bill Cook to be the best general play in the game. He has been a general play for many years when he saw him play in the Manual Training Boys High game last fall.

George is a little fellow, a very likeable fellow, who is attested to by the fact that he was elected president of the Manual Training General Organization, by an overwhelming vote, and of the Don Laurie tie in so far as football is concerned. He was the captain of the team in the season's opener with Concordia Prep, scoring three touchdowns, and was no less in the limelight in the game with Dean Academy. He failed to score in that contest, but he was responsible indirectly for every tally.

N. Y. U.

Maxwell Baker, captain of the 1920 basketball team at New York University, has entered the professional ranks and is now playing with the Brooklyn "Brox." Baker was a member of the Violet basketball team which traveled to Atlanta in 1919 and captured the A. U. championship.

The faculty of the School of Commerce voted a posthumous certificate of appreciation to Charles Paul Erving, a body to South Field for the Columbia game yesterday. After meeting in front of the library at the heights the university brass band led the column to the 107th street station of the subway.

Penn Opens New Stadium With Navy as Opponent

Long Stading Feud to Be Decided Next Saturday.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—With the formal opening of Penn's new stadium next Saturday in the game with the United States Naval Academy, a long standing feud springs up again between Coaches John W. Heisman and Bob Fowlwell.

The season opens on October 28 with Stanford High School at Stamford, Conn. On November 2, the Yale team will be met at Bridgeport to play the Bridgeport High School eleven. Election day they will meet C. C. N. Y. freshmen in a preliminary to the Varsity game with Fordham.

A new game on the schedule is the one with the Lafayette team, which will oppose the local team on a neutral field. The site chosen is Ashland Field, East Orange, and the game will be played on November 11. The final contest will be with the Colum. in freshmen at Ohio Field.

C. C. N. Y.

The C. C. N. Y. freshman cross-country team will engage in its first meet of the season next Wednesday. The "Newtown High" will be met at Newtown. A promising squad of runners, including Jacob, formerly of Curtis, and Dickson, T. H. H. star, will represent the yearlings. The remainder of the schedule, as announced by Manager Benson, is as follows: November 1, New Rochelle at New Rochelle; November 8, Yorkers at Cortlandt Park; November 15, Horace Mann at Van Cortlandt Park; November 18, New York University freshmen at Van Cortlandt Park.

The varsity hit and dale's get into action on Saturday against Lafayette at Easton. Last year the Pennsylvanians, led by Bob Crawford, scored a victory over the Purple and White. Jack Patent, Bernhard, Quttman, Parial, Reisman, Leon, Thaler, Freedman, Dain and Orlando to pick a team from the Lavender is harboring hopes of vengeance.

The second fresh-sopho tussle for the Student Council banner took place last Thursday in the form of a cane spree. The 25 wrestlers had an easy time of it, winning all six bouts for a total point score of 22. Twice the sophomore entries wrestled the cane from their opponents and four times they received the decision. The tug of war counted toward the Student Council banner, and the swimming meet, counting toward the A. A. banner, are on the program for this week.

Harvard

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—George Jones lost a chance to make a cool $250 house. President Lowell stepped in. Jones arranged to compete against a Tech. boy in an endurance test in the hold of the Australian convict ship here, the survivor after a week's test to get the money. If a draw resulted the prize was to be split. Lowell not only sat down on Jones but forbade any other Harvard man to try it.

Football is running for the presidency of the Junior Class. Charlie Hubbard, regular guard, opposes Jimmie Leo, first string substitute quarterback, and Barkie Henry who has temporarily abandoned the game.

Billie Burke, track captain, has reconsidered his decision to remain out of cross country and has reported. He should be a big help to the Crimson harriers.

Cortis Lamont, son of the New York banker, is making good as a forward on the varsity soccer team.

Princeton

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PRINCETON, Oct. 21.—Princeton's cross-country team will enter its first competition of the fall next Saturday afternoon, when the Tiger harriers run against M. L. T. at Van Cortlandt Park. The season was to have opened here today with a meet with Lehigh, but the run was canceled.

Over forty candidates for the team are working out daily on the course along the golf links, the graduate college and Lake Carnegie and, while the major-

Capable Football Squad at Lawrenceville School

Veteran Team One of Strongest in Years.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J., Oct. 21.—Lawrenceville is well on her way to another successful athletic season this year. The football, cross-country and golf teams are all practicing daily and have shown very well.

At the beginning of the football season Coach Dickens, a Yale varsity tackle of two years ago, had eleven men back. The line is by no means a weak one. It includes two all New York State stars—Alexander, an end, and a Lott, a tackle. The former is a wonder at snaring forward passes, while the latter is one of the greatest all around players that the school has had in a decade. Both have shown up remarkably well this season. Capt. Baldwin is a great leader and a fine tackle. Heron is back at his old berth at guard. Rich is playing his second year at center, while Keith, the only new man, is showing up well as the other guard. Wallace, a wing man, has proved to be one of the valuable players on the team. The entire line is aggressive.

In the backfield Dennison has perhaps shown up to greater advantage than the others. In every game so far this season he has gained considerably through the line and on end runs and passes. Starr is a very clever quarter and a good drop kicker. Moore, Anderson and McDevitt all are fullbacks and good players. Blake, Hurff, Glazebrook, Anderson and Gooch are the halfbacks.

Raritan Canal. He is 21 years old, hails from Chateaufort, N. Y., and is playing tackle for the fourth season.

At the other extreme is Matt Ray, a freshman from the East Side High School of Newark, who is only 4 feet 11 inches tall. Weighing around 140 pounds and encased in shoulder and elbow pads on the gridiron he looks as broad as a long. Ray is the backfield star. He is Rutgers' freshman team. Few seem to have noticed him. He's too small. But his speed and knowledge of football have attracted Sanford's eye and the midgest seems headed for the varsity by next fall.

Genial Bernie Webers, who has left friends wherever he has coached track and cross country teams—at Columbia, at Fordham and at the New York A. C. has already in his month here become one of the most popular of the Rutgers coaches.

Cornell

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, Oct. 21.—Soccer, little brother to football, is claiming an unusual number of devotees at Cornell this fall. Over 250 students are playing this game every day. Besides five varsity squad teams there are twenty fraternity combinations and eight college teams and five or six games are going on every afternoon. Time was when only the Chinese, Brazilian and South American students played soccer, but at Cornell at least this game has been made safe for America.

Rutgers

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 21.—If Foster Sanford's Scarlet football squads haven't the biggest and smallest gridiron players of any Eastern college this autumn, then a good many Rutgers rosters want to know who has.

In Capt. Howard Raub of the varsity basketball team will enter his first season. "Bruno"—Rutgers has a giant weighing 245 pounds and standing 6 feet 2 inches in height. Raub weighed even more last winter when playing basketball. He is the biggest player in the league. But during the summer he followed Sanford's orders about taking off weight and worked as a stoker in a local India rubber factory, as a pick and a mark on street paving and as a stevedore on the Delaware and

CRIMSON VS. GREEN AFTER LONG LAPSE

Harvard and Dartmouth Meet on Gridiron for First Time Since 1912.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—Harvard and Dartmouth renew relations in football next Saturday afternoon in the Stadium after a lapse of ten years. The two teams since 1910 had played practically every year when the break came. They were opponents a dozen years running when those in charge of Harvard's football policies decided that it was better for the Crimson's record of future success, particularly the big classic with Yale that the one time Indian college from Hanover be dropped from the Crimson's schedule.

When the rupture came in 1913 Harvard and Dartmouth had met on the gridiron twenty times, with the former victorious on sixteen occasions, the Green twice on ten, while two battles had ended in draws. It was Dartmouth, selected to baptize the Stadium, that flooded it with 11 to 10 victory. That was in 1903, and from that date on the contests between the two eleven were heavy. Harvard was Harvard's captain, and his team won, 5 to 3. The final year later, became a 3 to 0 affair when Charley Brickley, in his first year on the team, drop kicked a goal. Percy L. Wendell, the present Williams coach, was Harvard's captain. He had just been elected captain of the team. He had just been elected captain of the team. He had just been elected captain of the team.

Colgate

HAMILTON, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Albert Hermann of New Brunswick, N. J., was recently elected president of the senior class at Colgate. Hermann is the only three major sport letter man in college who has won baseball, football and basketball letters in two successive seasons. For two years he has been a student representative on the athletic governing board and a member of the senior governing board of the university.

While Hermann is an all around athlete, being the highest scoring guard in intercollegiate basketball two years ago, and one of the best halfbacks Colgate has had in recent years, it is undoubtedly in baseball that his athletic gifts are especially prominent. Last year, with a batting average well over .400, he was the second highest hitter in college baseball.

He is the captain-elect of the Maroon nine for the coming spring, and following his graduation from college next June he will undoubtedly break into big league ball, having received several fine offers from major league managers.

Frank O'Hern of Springfield, Mass., was elected to the office of vice-president of the senior class. He is a popular man in his class. Last spring he played shortstop on the Maroon baseball team and was one of the leading hitters. He is in the top ten ranked high in intercollegiate circles.

Navy

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 21.—The star backs of the Naval and Military Academy eleven this year are both from Johns Hopkins, an institution whose athletic standing by no means approaches that of Johns Hopkins. Barchet of the Navy and Wood of the Army are easily the most brilliant runners on their respective teams, and both were members of the Johns Hopkins eleven last year.

Marion Institute, Alabama, is maintaining its reputation as the greatest preparatory school for the Naval Academy. Clyde Kling, stroke of the Olympic crew, and great football tackle, was a shining example of the kind of men sent from Marion, and Eddie Wille, gigantic football guard and champion heavy-weight wrestler, was another. Norris, whose brilliant as a football player, is the second only to Barchet, is from the same school, and also sent four members of the class baseball nine this summer.

Brown

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 21.—The old argument against Greek letter fraternities that such organizations tend to lower the scholastic standing of their members is refuted in statistics recently announced by Dean Otis E. Ragland of Brown University. The comparative standing of fraternity and non-fraternity members at Brown is shown in the following table: Phi Kappa Psi, average for first group, 2.03; average for second group, 2.02. The figure 2.00 represents a grade of 70 to 80 per cent.

Phi Sigma Kappa leads the eleven Greek fraternities with an average of 2.44, while Phi Delta Theta, which was formerly first, is second, with an average of 2.33. Seven other societies, within the G group in the order of their ranking, are as follows: Phi Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Nu Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Phi. These were an average lower than Phi Sigma Kappa.

Lehigh

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. EASTON, Pa., Oct. 21.—Wrestling activities at Lehigh are beginning to shape themselves with the freshman candidates the first to take to the mat. This is the second season that Lehigh will enter a freshman squad and judging by the large number of candidates who reported for the initial workout the university will be well represented.

More than twenty men reported for practice and this number is expected to be more than doubled at the close of the football season, when many of the prospectives now busy in gridiron tactics will augment the ranks. William E. Conner, Lehigh's wrestling coach, is in charge of the freshmen and in teaching the elementary points of the art is assisted by several other letter men. Conner wrestled in the 153 pound class and campaigned a successful season up to the time that he fractured his ankle. He has since recovered from the injury and will again be a candidate for the varsity.

Coach Billy Sheridan will not start work with the varsity until the first Monday after Thanksgiving. This late start is due to the fact that the majority of the athletes are included in the football and soccer squad. How-

Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 21.—Hughie King, who played in the Penn freshman backfield last year, is coming along with a rush and Coach Heisman expects to use him in a number of the big games. King, aside from being a versatile back, is also a clever drop kicker and punter.

Eddie Farrell, Penn's halfback, is meeting with hard luck this fall. First he was laid up in the university hospital with fever and then after getting ready to jump into the game again he was notified that he would have to have his tonsils removed. Farrell's home is in Johnson City, N. Y. He is one of the best ball players in the university.

The Penn coaches expect Capt. Pos Miller to be back in shape in time for the Navy game next Saturday. Miller's back was badly injured in the Maryland game and for several days he was unable to get on his feet. He is now getting on his feet and is expected to play in the football and soccer squad. Fordham

Fordham will entertain the Westminster College eleven on Saturday at Fordham Field. Gargan does not look for any too much opposition from the Pennsylvanians, which fact does not annoy him, for the Maroon, does the fact that his season is not yet half completed, already has met three of its strongest opponents in Rutgers, Boston College and Georgetown.

The freshman football candidates have elected Ed Griffin, '26, a graduate of Xavier High School of this city, captain of their large squad. The frosh, coached by Tom Walsh, are in good condition for their opening game with Princeton freshmen at Princeton on Saturday.

For the second time the interclass track meet has been postponed, this time to Tuesday of this week. Nothing, however, but the elements will stop it again.

Tom Kerwin, manager of basketball, and Chris Hoey, manager of baseball, have their schedules for the coming seasons about complete.

The varsity football squad was well represented in the elections of officers at the morning freshman class of Fordham Law School. Lou Healey, end, was elected president; Barney Fallon, tackle, was elected treasurer, and Bill Ryan, guard, was elected as a delegate to "The Forum," the law school society.

Dick Conley was elected by his classmates as chairman of the Junior Prom Committee. Conley has two class committee assistants: Jimmy Kidder, Dick O'Brien, Joe O'Keefe and Ray Conron.

Vincent McPeak, varsity baseball catcher and backfield substitute, has been elected president of the sophomore class at the college. McPeak was also president of last year's freshman class.

Williams

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 21.—The first half of the Williams football season ended with the game against Yale, the first of the season, and with the preliminary contests out of the way, the Purple eleven will settle down to the task of preparing for its big meetings, the first of which will be with Columbia at New York next Saturday.

Despite the fact that Columbia is credited with being much stronger than the case a year ago, the Purple is hopeful of turning the same trick that it did in 1921. Much depends upon the condition of the varsity eleven, however, for there have been several regulars on the football list during the last couple of weeks.

Robinson, Jones, Richmond and Gregory may all be in condition to face Columbia, but it is probable that about their condition the chances are that they will be saved for Wesleyan and Amherst.

Andy Conkey, coach of the Williams basketball team, is planning to discontinue fall practice for his Purple charges, as the weather in the Berkshires took a sharp change the latter part of the week, second to a trifle better, but diamond workouts Williams will have practically a veteran nine in 1923, but present indications are that a few of the old men may lose their berths to first year students.

Amherst

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 21.—Gibney, '25, and Crawford, '26, have reached the first in the sophomore-freshman tennis tournament. Gibney won his place by defeating Webster, '23, and Crawford by defeating Anderson, '26. The final match will be played off this week.

The Amherst Debating Council, pending faculty approval, has officially accepted the invitation to join with eight other colleges in forming an Eastern intercollegiate debating league. The other colleges in the league are Columbia, Brown, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Williams, Cornell and Yale.

Professor Dought, of the chemistry department, has recently succeeded in making alchemic gold, a substance sought for bookbinding which can be used as an ordinary stamping ink. It is already in extensive use throughout the country.

In the freshman-sophomore track meet, which has been held during the last week, Lowell, '28, showed up very well in the 880 yard dash and Gilmore, '28, won the 100 yard dash. Hattie won two first places for the sophomores in the 80 and 400 yard dashes and took second in the 100.

Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 21.—Dartmouth appears to be headed for a comeback in cross country. The advent of the best material in years will allow Dartmouth to make a good showing in the meet scheduled this fall. The season opens on Friday with a triangular meet with Harvard and Tech in Boston.

An interview was had been called for Monday afternoon.
